Such assets are not the property of individuals, troops, geographic units, subordinate units, or communities within a Girl Scout council.

Local councils are encouraged to solicit the families of girl members for voluntary financial support as one part of an overall fundraising campaign. This may be done at the time of membership registration. Any such family contribution shall be voluntary, not a prerequisite for membership, and not considered a fee for local council services.

SOLICITATION OF CONTRIBUTIONS

Adult members in their Girl Scout capacities may not solicit financial contributions for purposes other than Girl Scouting. Adults may engage in combined fundraising efforts authorized by the Girl Scout council and in which the local council is a beneficiary. Girl members may not engage in any direct solicitation for money except for Girl Scout Seniors and Ambassadors, who may solicit philanthropic donations to their councils of cash or in-kind goods for Girl Scout Gold Award projects, provided they have secured prior written permission from their council's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Development Officer, or their designee. In addition, girls must abide by their own council's policies and procedures with regard to this matter. Within the terms of its charter, a Girl Scout council shall have the authority and responsibility to: provide and safeguard the Girl Scout program, build an organization to serve its membership, secure and direct personnel, extend membership opportunities to all girls within its jurisdiction, finance its work, and develop its community and public relationships. *A Girl Scout council shall not have the authority to establish any form of local council membership dues; however, Girl Scout councils may charge an annual council service fee for girl members, not to exceed the amount charged by GSUSA for annual membership dues. A Girl Scout council shall not use membership dues collected from girls and adults registering with GSUSA through the council as a source of investment income. The local council shall be accountable to the National Board of Directors of Girl Scouts of the United States of America for proper exercise of this authority.

*The annual council service fee was created by action of the National Council in 2011. It provides councils with the option of assessing a fee to help cover costs related to the administration of Girl Scout program for girls. The amount of the fee is determined by the individual council and cannot exceed the cost of the full-year annual membership dues set by GSUSA for the year that the annual council service fee is being charged. This is a girl fee and only applies to girl members.

Any council charging an annual council service fee must charge the fee consistently, to all girls, throughout the entire membership year, including early registration. Funds must be collected at the time that GSUSA dues are collected.

TROOPS AND COMMUNITIES WITHIN A GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL JURISDICTION

A girl who meets or can meet membership requirements shall not be denied admission or access to Girl Scout program because of race, color, ethnicity, creed, national origin, socioeconomic status, or disability. Reasonable accommodations shall be made for girls with disabilities to ensure that girls have access to activities.

SELECTION OF ADULTS

Every adult volunteer and executive staff member in Girl Scouting must be selected on the basis of qualifications for membership, ability to perform the job, and willingness and availability to participate in training for it. In selection of adults, there shall be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, sex, creed, national origin, or socioeconomic status. There shall be no discrimination against an otherwise qualified individual by reason of disability or on the basis of age. Members of Girl Scout council boards of directors and the National Board of Directors shall be selected so that the boards of directors represent diverse population groups and can bring to their deliberations a variety of points of view and life experiences, as well as access to cultural, religious, educational, civic, and economic resources. Executive staff shall be selected as needed to provide managerial and specialist expertise, research capability, and continuity to support the delivery of program to girls through volunteers.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION FOR VOLUNTEERS

There shall be no discrimination against an otherwise qualified adult volunteer by reason of disability or on the basis of age. Every person employed in Girl Scouting shall be protected by fair personnel policies and procedures, including formal problem resolution procedures.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

Girl Scouts of the United States of America, local councils, other units holding a credential, and USA Girl Scouts Overseas committees shall be responsible for seeing that all activities are planned and carried out so as to safeguard the health, safety, and general well-being of the participants.

SELECTION OF NATIONAL MEETING PLACES

Gatherings planned and held by the national Girl Scout organization for nationwide attendance shall be held in communities where individuals attending will have freedom of choice in seating, eating, and living accommodations in hotels and buildings engaged by the organization.

SPIRITUALITY/RELIGION

FLEXIBILITY IN WORDING FOR SPIRITUAL BELIEFS IN THE GIRL SCOUT PROMISE

Girl Scouts of the USA makes no attempt to define or interpret the word "God" in the Girl Scout Promise. It looks to individual members to establish for themselves the nature of their spiritual beliefs. When making the Girl Scout Promise, individuals may substitute wording appropriate to their own spiritual beliefs for the word "God."

PLACE OF RELIGION IN THE GIRL SCOUT PROGRAM

Girls are encouraged and helped through the Girl Scout program to become better members of their own religious group, but every Girl Scout group must recognize that religious instruction is the responsibility of parents and religious leaders.

RESPECT FOR RELIGIOUS OPINIONS AND PRACTICES

This is done locally through the Girl Scout council or USA Girl Scouts Overseas committee with which she or he is affiliated or through national headquarters if she or he has no council affiliation. Girl Scout councils account for membership dues in the custodian fund and transmit to GSUSA within two months of receipt all monies received for membership dues. These funds are not to be invested by the council for the purpose of generating income for the council.

The Girl Scout membership year is October 1 through September 30.

New girl members pay $25 when they initially become members of the Movement.*

New adult members pay $25 when they initially become members of the Movement.*

* Effective May 1, 2018, new girl and adult members who sign up on or between May 1–September 30 of a membership year may elect to pay $35 and their membership will start immediately and continue through the end of the following membership year. This discount (comprising the tail of an existing membership year and the full following membership year) is available on a one-time basis for new girl and adult members only; upon renewal, such individuals pay $25 for a regular membership year.

6. See page 24, “Flexibility in Wording for Spiritual Beliefs in the Girl Scout Promise.”

When a member transfers from one troop/group or position to another or to another local council, the member does not re-register until her/his current membership expires at the beginning of the next membership year.

The national organization determines the system and method for registering members through Girl Scout councils. Each Girl Scout council verifies the accuracy of the troop/group and/or individual member information and forwards it with the membership dues directly to national headquarters.

National Board members, other National Board committee members, including Advisory Committee members, other national volunteers, and other adult members who have their contact only with the national organization use registration forms received from the national organization. They forward the completed registration forms and dues directly to national headquarters.

USA Girl Scouts Overseas use registration forms received from the national organization. They also forward the completed registration forms and dues directly to national headquarters.

The membership dues of one person may not be transferred to the credit of another person. Membership dues are not refundable.

Adults serving in more than one Girl Scout position pay membership dues only once annually.

PROCEDURES FOR REVIEWING AND ISSUING GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL CHARTERS

The council is issued a charter, and the charter is renewed subject to the steps outlined in the charter procedures:

- 1. The council engages in a strategy process resulting in council priorities and goals that are in alignment with GSUSA priorities and goals.
- 2. The council completes an Annual Review and submits such other documents or information as GSUSA requires to evaluate its performance compared to key national benchmarks and its own goals. Results of this review are reported to the council Board of Directors and included in a report to the National Board.
- 3. Following action by the National Board of Directors to reaffirm a council's charter, a letter is sent from the National Secretary to the Chair of the Board and the CEO of the council confirming this action. GSUSA processes the charter agreement and a charter certificate is sent to the council.
- 4. If multiple key indicators show shortfalls or negative trends, an On-Site Review may be initiated by the council or GSUSA to review key indicators and identify action plans and support needed. The review team can include national staff, national volunteers, and council representatives from the council being reviewed. The review team delivers an in-person report to the council Board of Directors following the review. A written report of the action plan is forwarded to GSUSA.
- 5. A Viability Review may be initiated by Girl Scouts of the USA if there is evidence or reason to believe one or more of the following circumstances exists:

- a. Action that threatens to undermine the mission and/or damage the brand.
- b. Risk of financial failure or failure to meet financial obligations.
- c. Corporate malfeasance.
- d. Disregard for mission-critical GSUSA policies, priorities and goals or other direction given by the National Board or CEO.
- e. Governance system in violation of US law, council bylaws, and/or GSUSA policies; and is not consistent, visible, or effective.
- f. Performance against national benchmarks and council goals continues to be consistently and critically below standard after an On-Site Review has been conducted.
- g. Any act or omission, or any course of conduct that, in the opinion of the National Board of Directors, is not in the best interests of Girl Scouting.

PROCEDURES FOR A CHARTER VIABILITY REVIEW

The review can begin with a minimum of five (5) days notice. The communication concerning the review will include the specific concerns that need to be addressed and a timeline for the review. If circumstances warrant, the Viability Review can be initiated immediately. The Viability Review Process includes the following steps.

- 1. Following National Board action, GSUSA staff advises the council that a Viability Review will take place. GSUSA defines the scope of the review based on presenting issues and appoints an appropriate review team which will include council and national personnel. The review team is constituted based on the circumstances warranting the review. The council shall cooperate with the Viability Review and provide requested information.
- 2. Results of the review, including the prescribed action plan, are shared in a face-to-face meeting with the council Board Chair, CEO and subsequently with the council Board of Directors. The Viability Review team presents the findings with the expectation that the council takes immediate corrective action. In most cases Girl Scouts of the USA will develop the corrective action plan.

3. GSUSA monitors the execution of the prescribed action plan to ensure progress. Possible monitoring actions include:

- a. Monthly review meeting (on site/phone) with a member of the National Staff to evaluate progress.
- b. Placement of a monitor in/with the council to provide on-the-ground support to the Board and the staff and to measure the report progress.
- c. Immediate targeted, onsite support, as needed to key functions, i.e., staff development for membership staff, financial management and can include placement of interim staff in key roles.
- d. Provide documentation to GSUSA in a timeframe prescribed.

4. If there is a cause for urgent action, GSUSA may request an immediate meeting of the council Board of Directors or take other appropriate action to address the situation and agree on an action plan for moving forward.

PROCEDURES FOR NON-ISSUANCE OR REVOCATION OF CHARTERS

1. The National Board of Directors takes action on the recommendations of the CEO of Girl Scouts of the USA, if any of the following circumstances occurs in a council:

- A. Deficiency in respect to its resources, finances, personnel, administrators, manner of supervising the program, effectiveness in its attempt to reach and serve all girls within its jurisdiction or otherwise, such that, in the opinion of the National Board of Directors, it appears that such council is unable adequately to develop, manage, or maintain Girl Scouting within its jurisdiction; or
- B. Any act or omission, or any course of conduct that, in the opinion of the National Board of Directors, is not in the best interests of Girl Scouting; or
- C. Failure to comply with any policy, credential standard, or directive issued or established by or under the authority of the National Board of Directors; or
- D. Violation of any term, condition, or requirement of its charter.

2. In the event that charter revocation or non-issuance is contemplated, notice of reason will be provided to the council along with a reasonable time period for response. A time and location will be provided where the council can review and discuss the issue(s) with a team representing the National Board.

3. Following the meeting, the National Board will in its sole discretion, take action that it deems appropriate including revocation or non-issuance and will communicate the action to the council with follow-up measures. The decision of the National Board shall be final.

STANDARDS FOR A GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL JURISDICTION

The requirements of local council charters are established by the National Council. The National Board administers the requirements for such credentials and may establish standards, procedures, and interpretations regarding requirements. The National Board sets council jurisdictions and has determined that it is in the best interests of Girl Scouting to establish minimum criteria for council jurisdictions except as prohibited by law. These criteria include an available girl population in the range of 100,000 or more and an aggregate household income in the range of $1 billion or more except in cases where these criteria cannot be met even within an entire state or states. Other criteria which will be considered include regional identification, diverse population, anticipated population growth or decline, established transportation patterns, state or municipal boundaries, geographic barriers, and media markets. The standard will enable local councils to have sufficient resources to support membership growth and diversity, differentiated program opportunities, and specialized council staff.

Except as provided above, all councils who do not meet the basic jurisdictional requirements will be expected to work in close collaboration with their neighbors in a way that brings benefit to all. Annual charter-related conversations will be driven by each council's performance against charter criteria and standards and by work with neighboring councils to develop joint programs, share services, and/or collaborate in a way that improves Girl Scouting in each of the jurisdictions. The National Board retains the right to initiate merger proceedings in any jurisdiction when the National Board deems it appropriate in the best interests of Girl Scouting and will, on a case-by-case basis, work with councils that do not meet the jurisdictional requirements to develop plans for jurisdictional changes as necessary and in accordance with the law.

PROCEDURES FOR CHANGING A GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL JURISDICTION⁷

In all matters concerning jurisdictional lines, the National Board of Directors has the authority to make the final decision, either during the term of a charter or upon issuance of a new charter.

SECTION I

When two or more Girl Scout councils agree to combine jurisdictions to create a new council:

- 1. Each council's board of directors must approve the decision to engage in the jurisdictional change, which must be carried out in compliance with the council's bylaws and the laws of the state in which the council is incorporated.
- 2. The councils develop a plan and timeline for carrying out the proposed changes in jurisdiction.
- 3. Each council's board of directors must vote on the plan of merger, consolidation, or other corporate reorganization and distribution of assets, and refer it to the council's membership for a vote according to the laws of the state of incorporation.
- 4. Following the completion of the process to establish the new council, an Application for a Charter for a New Girl Scout Council is submitted to Girl Scouts of the USA for action by the National Board of Directors.
- 5. Following approval of the National Board of Directors, Girl Scouts of the USA processes the application, makes the necessary changes in the official records, and notifies each council chair of the board and CEO of the approval of changes in jurisdiction. The councils notify their membership of the changes in jurisdiction.

SECTION II

When two or more Girl Scout councils agree to transfer a part of one council jurisdiction to another council:

- 1. Each council's board of directors must approve the jurisdictional change.

⁷ All actions taken must be consistent with state law.

2. An Application for Change in Girl Scout Council Jurisdiction is completed by each council and sent to Girl Scouts of the USA.

3. Girl Scouts of the USA records the changes in jurisdiction in the official records. Notification of the decision related to the changes of jurisdiction is sent to board chairs of the councils involved. The councils shall notify their membership of the changes in jurisdictions.

Note: This process may be initiated by a single Girl Scout council, by several Girl Scout councils together, or by an individual community within a Girl Scout council. If an individual community within a Girl Scout council wishes to be removed from the council's jurisdiction and added to that of another council, the community initiates the request by sending it, in writing, to its own council board chair.

SECTION III

The following steps are taken if or when agreement cannot be reached between the boards of directors of the Girl Scout councils to combine or transfer jurisdiction:

1. A board chair of at least one affected council must notify Girl Scouts of the USA that their boards are unable to reach agreement on the combination or transfer of jurisdiction.

2. A national team, including a National Operational Volunteer, will invite all affected councils to provide information on how the requested change will impact the delivery of Girl Scout program. Community leaders from the affected councils also may be invited to provide their reaction to the requested change. A summary of the data collected will be shared with each council board involved in the process.

3. Using the data provided from council and community sources, the national team will develop a recommendation for jurisdictional boundaries and forward it to the affected councils. The national team completes an Application for Change in Girl Scout Council Jurisdiction pursuant to the recommendations.

4. After the Application for Change in Girl Scout Council Jurisdiction is completed, the CEO of Girl Scouts of the USA reviews the application and recommends action to the National Board of Directors.

5. Following action by the National Board of Directors, Girl Scouts of the USA records the changes in jurisdiction in the official records of Girl Scouts of the USA. The action of the National Board of Directors shall be considered final. Notification is sent to each affected council board chair. The councils shall notify their membership of the change in jurisdiction.

PROCEDURE FOR CHANGING A GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL NAME

To select or change its name, a council should follow the procedure outlined below (Girl Scouts of the USA will provide guidelines for a council to select or change its name):

1. The council submits a proposed name (and up to two alternates) to Girl Scouts of the USA for review.

2. Girl Scouts of the USA notifies the council that the name(s) are consistent with the guidelines. The council starts proper legal proceedings to effect the change in name in the state in which the council is incorporated.

3. When the council receives permission or approval from its state of incorporation to use the new corporate name, the council notifies Girl Scouts of the USA that the corporate name has been approved by the state on a specified date and sends the amended articles of incorporation to Girl Scouts of the USA.

CRITERIA AND STANDARDS FOR AN EFFECTIVE GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

The criteria and standards for an effective Girl Scout council are established by the National Board of Directors to delineate the way in which Girl Scout councils are expected to fulfill their charter requirements. Essential to the charter criteria and standards is the expectation that all Girl Scout councils fully support and promote the Girl Scout mission of building girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place. Leadership development is how we achieve our mission and is critical to the advancement and stewardship of the Girl Scout brand.

The criteria cover broad areas of a council's responsibility. Standards are developed to support and further define each criterion. They are the foundation on which the work of the council should be built. Measures and benchmarks have been developed to gauge performance and are reviewed regularly.
